

Scott Bloom

Comedic Keynote Speaker

Keynote Topic: IT'S A FUNNY THING. How Laughter Connects People and Cultivates Engagement

Scott Bloom Bio

A professional comedian, author, podcast host and TV personality who has built a reputation as the go-to choice for business humor, Scott has hosted hundreds of events over two decades for big and small organizations alike.

As the son of a successful sales man, he was exposed to the principles of building a business at an early age. As a comedian, Scott cut his teeth at renowned improv and comedy clubs. And as a self taught student of psychology, he's explored what makes people tick and has written a book (albeit a farce) on how to get through life. He's uniquely positioned to deliver significant concepts on connecting people, building relationships and making business seriously funny.

Event Emcee. Awards Host.
Comedic Keynote Speaker.

For more information:

ScottBloomConnects.com

Principally known for delivering business humor, Scott's success has been built on the Power of Laughter and the Language of Business™. And more importantly, it's been driven by making it his business to know yours. He does deep dives into your organization, people, products and culture; and surfaces with custom content that provides fresh, funny perspectives on topics like teamwork, customer and employee engagement, relationship building and more.

As a corporate entertainer, comedian, author and personal growth advocate, Scott draws from his personal and professional world to deliver a hilarious and insightful talk that illustrates the importance of connecting with colleagues, co-workers and customers.

Using customized, relatable content infused with humor and plenty of audience participation, Scott illustrates how the power of keeping it light AND personal can foster healthy, sustainable connections that can grow your business.

In short, the keynote is for and about the audience. And at its core, it provides a tailor-made, entertaining, feel-good, bonding experience that opens up audiences to receiving new ideas. It allows them to laugh. To trust. To relax. To take in the moment. And it reminds them of why building relationships is so important.

To that end, harnessing both the power of laughter and the language of business, Scott employs lots of interactive tools to have the audience connect to him and with one another. They'll see and feel the relationships in the room progress and grow. And they'll leave energized and incentivized to break out of their comfort zone and look at new ways of meeting people and networking. New ways of collaborating and creating.

Anyway you look at it, the content is tailored to the audience and for your business. It is seriously funny, and the ideas shared will no doubt inspire engagement and impact your results as your teams learn to bond and grow through laughter.

Scott Bloom

Event Emcee & Awards Host

Discover A Funny Man Who Means Business

Scott Bloom Bio

A professional comedian, author, podcast host and TV personality who has built a reputation as the go-to choice for business humor, Scott has hosted hundreds of events over two decades for big and small organizations alike.

As the son of a successful sales man, he was exposed to the principles of building a business at an early age. As a comedian, Scott cut his teeth at renowned improv and comedy clubs. And as a self taught student of psychology, he's explored what makes people tick and has written a book (albeit a farce) on how to get through life. He's uniquely positioned to deliver significant concepts on connecting people, building relationships and making business seriously funny.

Event Emcee. Awards Host.
Comedic Keynote Speaker.

For more information:
ScottBloomConnects.com

A professional emcee who has hosted hundreds of corporate events, Scott can custom-tailor his unique brand of showmanship to meet your needs.

Principally known for delivering business humor, his success has been built on the Power of Laughter and the Language of Business™. And more importantly, it's been driven by making it his business to know yours. He does deep dives into your people, products, buzzwords and acronyms, and comes up with custom content that provides fresh, funny perspectives on topics like teamwork, leadership, customer engagement and more.

He's also a master at manifesting insightful, interactive, laugh-ter-packed experiences that keep audiences riveted and focused on your message. Whether opening the general session - introducing executives - staging audience participation segments - moderating leadership discussions – or delivering segues that underscore the objectives of the session, Scott delivers meetings with poise, power and panache.

As a master of awards ceremonies, Scott's the quintessential, silver-tongued host who can lift the significance of the honor and broaden a winner's smile. He's a master at the mic with all the right stuff—moments of improv brilliance, creativity and charm. He can make winners feel extraordinarily special. And, equally important, he can make long, oft-time tedious ceremonies into uplifting experiences of celebration and fun that spill out and over the winners. And the audience responds accordingly.

So whether you need a professional emcee, a world-class awards host, or an out-of-the-box guest speaker, Scott is the ideal choice for business meetings and events. Discover a funny man who means business. Connect with Scott.

